Representative Macco Statement on Green Bay State of the City Address

Green Bay...Green Bay Mayor Jim Schmitt delivered his annual State of the City Address. Representative John Macco (R – Ledgeview) was in attendance and released the following statement:

“Mayor Schmitt showed us, once again, why his mantra ‘I must do something always accomplishes more than something must be done’ has brought positive changes to Green Bay in his 14 years as mayor,” said Rep. Macco. “I applaud his leadership and am confident in the direction detailed in his address.”

Rep. Macco is a lifelong resident of Green Bay area who founded two successful area businesses. He also served on several boards and commissions focused on development in the Downtown Green Bay area.

“Mayor Schmitt’s speech showed his dedication to creating stronger community connections with the University of Wisconsin Green Bay and bringing development to all parts of the city,” continued Rep. Macco. “These ideas are a continuation of the story of how Green Bay went from a city with a nonexistent downtown and a destination only famous for a sports team to a young, dynamic and vibrant city. The story of Green Bay in the past 14 years is the envy of my colleagues in Madison.”

“I look forward to continue assisting Mayor Schmitt, the Green Bay City Council and the citizens of Green Bay in Madison to continue to bring positive changes to our great city.
